

Mike Hill

Commercial Insurance Broker

Mike Hill is a key member of InterWest's Construction Division, bringing valuable expertise and commitment to finding the best possible solution for his clients' unique business needs.

Mike started his career inside construction in 1997, working for his father's company, David A. Hill Construction. Specializing in new construction and remodeling, Mike found a talent in working with clients and helping them make their dreams come true. Mike made the transition from being a builder to insuring builders' needs in 2001 by going to work for Bozzuto Insurance Agency where he built a small book of clients in the greater Sacramento Area. In 2004, Mike joined InterWest Insurance Services which provided the perfect fit for growth and professional resources to better serve his clients' needs.

Mike holds a degree from Sacramento State University with a concentration in business. He is currently working towards Construction Risk Insurance Specialists (CRIS) designation from the Insurance Education Association.
