

Patrick Hoffman, CIC

Commercial Insurance Broker

Patrick Hoffman graduated from Chico State University with a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Political Science and a Paralegal Certificate. After college, he worked as a golf professional for six years at Butte Creek Country Club.

In 2001, he began his insurance career with InterWest Insurance Services focusing on the hospitality and manufacturing industries. He has earned his designation as a Certified Insurance Counselor (CIC) and is studying to become a Certified Risk Manager (CRM). These designations have helped Pat in reviewing the risks a business faces and to assist in designing an insurance program that will help his clients effectively manage their loss exposures which will have a direct impact on their insurance costs and coverages.

Pat's background in the golf industry has facilitated his working with larger California country clubs and introducing alternative markets as an option for their workers' compensation coverage. Since 2004, he has worked with self-insured groups which offer clients more control over the insurance process, access to strong claims management and the opportunity to reduce their overall insurance costs.

When not spending time with his wife, Tammy, his daughter, Avery, and son Colin, Pat volunteers his time to the community and co-chairs an organization that helps raise money for local youth sports. Over the years, this organization has contributed over $450,000 to local little leagues.
